Structure Fanthorp Tavern (TEX-217)

South Main St. Wooden frame with clapboarding, five-bay front, two stories, gabled roof, L-plan. Built c.1834 by Henry Fanthorp of England. Two stagecoach lines met in front of the house, which became known as Fanthorp Inn. Parts of this commodious hostelry were razed at an early date leaving a large private residence, now restored. When Kenneth L. Anderson, last Vice-President of the Republic of Texas, died at this inn in 1845, the
